TWL Achieves Online Transaction Approval

The Weather Lottery Plc (Ticker symbol; TWL) is pleased to announce that it has been approved by a UK High Street Bank for all Credit Card and Debit Card transactions. The Weather Lottery has primarily been a paper based application Lottery with recurring standing orders (96%) being its main stream of revenue.

A recurring Debit and Credit Card system will allow players to pay online and will enhance the turnover of the Group and at the same time increase the revenue of the Company's 1500 (and growing) clients. TWL only accepts applications to play its lotteries from U.K. based players.

Organisations registered with The Weather Lottery can now simply contact their support base to register directly online and raise further recurring funds for their cause. It is the Company's intention for the Play Online system to go live in October 2006

Speaking today, Keith Milhench CEO of The Weather Lottery Plc explained: 'to be approved by a UK High Street Bank for all online transactions is a major step in for the Company's ongoing growth and development. Gaining approval by such an institution is extremely pleasing and once more proves the credibility of the Group. Players can now support their cause whether it is in the Education, Sporting or Charity sectors, directly online at www.theweatherlottery.com'.
